

Propelling Pigs Confuse Villagers

Wednesday 13th October

by Alec

Artist's impression of the flying pigs

The innocent people of Stibbard awoke to the confusing news that the village had been visited by thousands of flying pigs during the night. Some residents have reported that their roof was smashed and some also reported that they had smashed their windows. Eyewitnesses report that they originate from Ben Foster's (21) farm. How did they fly? Is this linked with the flying frogs? Did Ben do this? Police are unsure how to explain this strange happening. During our interview the bizarre happening of this event was brought to our attention by Police Constable John Smith

"Residents of Stibbard have reported pigs oinking at 3AM and crashing early in the morning." Local teacher Jane Jones remarked, "I was unable to sleep so I made myself a sandwich. Then I saw them! Like missiles they were. Never in all my days have I seen something like this." Local babysitter Taylor Snarby commented "I went to the kitchen to fetch the baby some food but when I entered the room was full of flying pigs! I couldn't believe what I was seeing! I waved my hand at one of them and it got pushed back. I went to fetch a broom but when I came back they were gone!" The peace of the village has been destroyed. Residents are asking will this happen next week? The police would like to speak to other witnesses on their incident line: 212121210